PRIDE - HUMILITY - SHAME

Most alcoholics come to A.A. with their own interpretation of many of the words we hear bandied about in the meetings and I'm no exception. Words like Love, Honesty, Spirituality, Unselfishness, and Humility, for a few. I fumbled around with the program as best I could with my faulty, misguided, egocentric way of thinking, but I was never satisfied until I had resolved each and every one of those issues, as best I could, and it turns out that most of my new ideas are almost the opposite to my old way of thinking. Love, for instance means caring for and nurturing another person, and not necessarily that feeling you get when you are infatuated with the opposite sex. Honesty, to me, means devoid of all motives to deceive and not just the act of not telling lies. Spirituality and Unselfishness would require a much deeper explanation and for this essay I want to address, the often talked about and just as often unresolved word, Humility. We hear the stale jokes like: "They gave me a medal for humility, and then they took it away from me because I wore it" or "I'm proud of my humility". Now, I'm not against fun and laughter but come on, Get some new material. For me, it took over twenty years to come to an understanding of that word that put my search to rest.

The final piece of the puzzle came to me when in my 22nd year of sobriety, I was on the phone with a man who was trying to engage me in an argument, and when he realized I wasn't going to bite, he fired his last volley by saying: Well, I've heard stories about you, and you're no angel." I thought about it for a few seconds and replied, "I've done a lot of things in my life that I'm not proud of, but I'm not ashamed of anything that I've done in the past 22 years. The phone call ended peacefully.

Several years later, in a step study meeting on step seven the topic was Humility as it usually is when we study step seven. I remembered that phone call and realized that Pride was not the opposite of humility that pride was the opposite of shame and that humility fell right in the middle of the two. When I boiled it all down I concluded that I should not be proud of, or ashamed of the things I do and that I should be in the middle somewhere. This applies to my receiving as well as my giving. Aristotle referred to this as "The Golden Mean" where, for example, when we are in the habit of giving compliments to our friends when they deserve it, we should not be so stoic that we cannot accept a compliment with the proper amount of appreciation, when we deserve it. To me this means finding the Mean between the extremes and exercising it until it becomes second nature.

I've known some humble people, in and outside of the program, and they have some things in common: They seldom bring attention to themselves, they never criticize others, they are always comforting, and they are always an asset and never a liability. Humble people do the things they were taught as a child. They treat others with respect. They are: trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient.... Sound familiar? I learned it in the boy scouts. I learned the Golden Rule in church, but I was never strong enough to live by it. If you're not sure what you're supposed to be doing, Read the 11th Step Prayer in the 12x12 or The Boy Scouts Laws, or try practicing The Golden Rule. That should be a pretty good start. When I found Alcoholics Anonymous, I was reintroduced to these values and helped to rein in my ego, and today I am at peace with myself and with others.

With respect to my decision making and my behavior, I find that the program, and most other philosophies of life, are based on unselfish principles and if I am sure that the motives, for what I do, are selfless, I have nothing to be ashamed of, but; does this mean that I have something to be proud of in these cases? It then occurred to me that unless I personally created the principle that I based my decision on, I can take no credit for that decision. For the life of me, I can't remember one principle that I created myself, however, all of my decisions are based on unselfish principles and I feel really good on the inside these days, and furthermore, I'm not proud of anything, No medals necessary, thank you.

Rick R.

7th STEP PRAYER

"MY CREATOR", I am now willing that YOU should have all of me, good and bad. I pray that YOU now remove from me every single defect of character which now stands in the way of my usefulness to YOU and my fellows. Grant me strength, as I go out from here, to do YOUR bidding.

Amen

Dignidad por Medio del Sacrificio

Al principio sacrificamos el alcohol. Tuvimos que hacerlo, o él hubiera acabado con nosotros. Pero no podíamos liberarnos del alcohol si no hacíamos otros sacrificios. Tuvimos que echar por la ventana la justificación propia, la autocompasión y la ira. tuvimos que retirarnos de la desatinada competencia por el prestigio personal y los enormes saldos bancarios.

Tuvimos que asumir la responsabilidad de nuestro lamentable estado y dejar de culpar a otros por ello.

¿Fueron aquellos realmente sacrificios? Sí, lo fueron. Para obtener la humildad y la dignidad suficiente siquiera para permanecer vivos, tuvimos que desechar aquello que había sido nuestra más cara posesión:

nuestra ambición y nuestro ilegítimo orgullo.

A.A. LLEGA A SU MAYORÍA DE EDAD, pág. 280

La Ira – Enemigo Personal y del Grupo

“Como queda expresado en el libro Alcohólicos Anónimos: ‘El resentimiento es el ofensor Número Uno’. Es la primera causa de las recaídas a beber. Bien lo sabemos los A.A.: ‘Beber significa volverse loco finalmente o morir’.

“Un castigo muy parecido amenaza al grupo de A.A. Con un grado suficiente de ira, se pierden tanto la unidad como el propósito. Con un grado mayor de indignación ‘virtuosa’, el grupo puede desintegrarse; en realidad, puede morir. Por ello, evitamos la controversia. Por ello, no prescribimos ningún castigo por ningún tipo de mala conducta, por grave que sea. De hecho, no se puede privar a ningún alcohólico de su derecho a pertenecer por causa alguna.

“El castigo nunca sana a nadie. Sólo el amor puede sanar”.

BONDAGE OF SELF EXPOSED

When I asked God to relieve me of the BONDAGE OF SELF, I wasn't sure what I was asking for—it was just part of the Third Step Prayer, but my sponsor instructed me ask God's help for writing down where I had been resentful, fearful, etc. This was done in a spontaneous manner without mind-filtering. This allowed honest and unchangeable information for use in my Fourth and Fifth Steps. Consequently, on Steps Six and Seven, there it was: the bare and exposed ingredients of THE BONDAGE OF SELF!

I was surprised how many hidden little devils (defects, shortcomings) existed deep in my subconscious and how they had unknowingly influenced my conscious mind. Although I felt confident that I would never drink again, those invisible demons continued to chant louder and louder: "The day may come when we can drink again—and it may be tonight!" . . . and at one point I almost did! Thank God I didn't, but at that point I began to realize that the BONDAGE OF SELF was separating me from the truth in drink. No wonder I couldn't stay sober before coming to AA!

Although, dramatically weakened, it still chatters to this day. However, page 55, speaks of: ". . . a Great Reality deep down within us" (God). Dr. Carl Jung tells us that we have both demons and angels competing for control of our subconscious (He calls them archetypes). Luckily, a vital spiritual experience (p. 27) can allow the angels to become dominant! This is what Steps Ten and Eleven are all about! Even so, I can still hear those aggressive little devils (committee) down there just chattering away. They say: "Ain't it awful!" Aren't they awful!" "Aren't you awful!" . . . and like that. They are too smart to suggest drinking at this point but I know that is what they are leading up to.

The BONDAGE OF SELF is no longer a solid wall denying the truth to pass through (I cannot drink on the truth), but has become so porous that taking a shot of whiskey no longer occurs to me. I believe I have been awarded "a personality change sufficient—just enough—to bring about recovery from alcoholism (p. 567). Thank you God!
