MY EGO CAN WHIP YOUR EGO LET YOUR CONSCIENCE BE YOUR GUIDE

I've haven't had too many problems with places or things. My problems have always been with the people in those places and the ones that owned those things. It's always been THOSE OTHER PEOPLE. When I first entered AA, I learned that one of the symptoms of alcoholism was our inability to form a true partnership with another human being. I could be your partner as long as you were willing to see it my way. Most of the people I knew got tired of me and pulled away. I had to explain why they deserted me, so I went about pointing out all of their faults while rationalizing (making a socially acceptable excuse for a socially unacceptable behavior) my own behavior. I never felt good about myself after behaving that way, but I couldn't face the idea of admitting that I was the problem.

One evening, I was talking to a friend of mine about this topic and he said: "all forms of criticism and character assignation stem from low self esteem". I heard another person say "there are two ways to get the tallest building in town, 1. Build the tallest building or 2. Tear all the other buildings down". The low self esteem comment stopped me in my tracks. I knew I had to restrain my tongue if I was ever going to overcome the insecurity inside of me. I was going to have to rely on my own merits if I was ever going to have a healthy self image.

All people are conditioned to protect themselves and often they overreact and do and say things that cause others to react in kind. This can do damage to any relationship, and sometimes can destroy a friendship. I am in the program of Alcoholics Anonymous to heal myself so it's my responsibility to cut off my own escape and take the initiative to deal with my side of the action whether the other person cooperates or not. If I want to--- have the best possible relationship with every human being I know--- (12x12 steps 8) it's up to me and I had to stop judging people by their surface behavior, look deeper and try to understand how they are conditioned to behave the way they do. This gives me the strength to be empathetic and not aggravate the situation. We all make mistakes and today I don't let my EGO compound the problem. When I let myself get into a confrontation with another person who has problems like I do, all I am saying is, "I'LL BET MY EGO CAN WHIP YOUR EGO".

It's a long and slow process, and it requires constant attention on my part. I try to give everyone amnesty. I apply the golden rule in every situation. I use the St. Francis prayer for inspiration. I refuse to pile on when another person is a little off his/her game. If I find that that person is still willing to cross my boundaries and cause me grief, I can remove myself and detach without condemning the other person as I withdraw. I don't discuss his faults to others when he's not present. (No gossip)

And most of all, I must be satisfied with delayed gratification. It may take years before anyone appreciates the changes that I have made, and when they do, it makes it even more gratifying. Today I am nobody's adversary; I nobody's victim; and I am nobody's perpetrator. I know that my ego doesn't like the way I live today, but my conscience gets the final say.

Rick R.

THE BLESSING OF A.A. SERVICE WORK

I found a strong feeling of security to be surrounded by AA members in attendance at my first Area Assembly. Some of these members had been sober twenty or thirty years, but yet willing to travel all over the place—sometimes a hundred miles, plus—to participate in AA's important service structure. Even more it was the joy and enthusiasm penetrating the room[s]. I, at once, decided to become part of all this!

Starting at the near bottom, so to speak, my first position was that of an Intergroup representative in West Los Angeles. I will never forget that there was a hot issue in the air, so when time came to Vote I did so for several different groups (I was sure they would have been for it!). However, I was informed, with great kindness, that I could only vote for my home group. A bit embarrassed, but better informed, I became willing to learn what I was doing before acting out. My sobriety was conveniently enhanced by this lesson in humility!

Moving back to my home town of Richmond, Indiana, I became a General Service Representative for the AZ-UR group that met in our local club. Our District meetings met about ten times per year, which I enjoyed a lot. I took over the committee for printing the district's meeting schedule which was more difficult than I had allowed for, but it gave me a feeling of being part-of. More mistakes only added to my still needed humility!

A few years later, I became a District Committee Member which placed me in the exciting rooms mentioned in the first paragraph. It was, of course, my duty to report the essential decisions and upcoming events back to the District Meetings. Thank God for PCs because after telling the news, I could simply copy the essentials and hand them to the GSRs so they could read said information to their specific groups.

My current service positions, these last years, have been the District's Archive Chairperson. It is great fun displaying AA stuff all over the place and discussing the fascinating history of AA. I am also editor of our District newsletter which is printed only four times a year, but that is also a great pleasure.

I will never be smart enough to be a GSO Delegate, but then; who is the most important person in AA, anyway?

Answer: The Coffee maker.

Bob S, Richmond, IN

Tradition 7: The Price of a Drink -And the value of gratitude

Whenever I go out to dinner in a restaurant with my husband or friends, I find myself drawn to the drinks section of the menu. I also find myself paying a lot of attention to the advertisements in the window of my local liquor store. Thanks to Alcoholics Anonymous and the hope and strength I found in its rooms, I have not had to take a drink since April 1988, and I am convinced that if I keep on following the suggestions, I will continue not to drink, one day at a time. So why my fascination with the price of alcohol? It has to do with the worth of my gratitude.

When I came into this fabulous Fellowship, I was lucky enough to get sober in a place where almost every time the Seventh Tradition basket was passed, someone explained about taking part in meeting the expenses of the group and helping to carry the message to other alcoholics whenever possible.

Early on, what I could do didn't amount to very much. I was single, barely able to meet my personal living expenses, and had a lot of financial amends to make. Even so, a small glimmer of awareness in my slowly clearing brain realized that, because AA helped me not to pick up that first drink, I was saving myself a lot of money on a daily basis. I didn't begrudge that dollar in the basket.

Several years later, I was doing better financially, not going to as many meetings every week, had gotten very involved in general service, and had watched area committees struggle to do service with the small amounts of money that most groups were able to send. It dawned on me then that there was nothing particularly sacred about "a buck in the basket." After consultation with other, wiser, women in the Fellowship, I decided to at least put in the price of a cup of coffee for myself and the newcomer with only some lint in his or her pocket.

Now I have trudged a few more years down that "Road of Happy Destiny" and connected a few more dots. I couldn't count the number of times that I have said in meetings, "I am grateful to AA and my Higher Power for not having to pick up that first drink today."

Connect. . . connect. . . connect. Why not put the price of that first drink that I didn't have to take today into the basket? It makes perfect sense to this alcoholic, since I know that not taking that first drink today has saved me not only the price of dozens more that I would have to chase it with, but saved my life, my self-respect, and a long list of other priceless personal assets that I owe to my sobriety.

So, now you know why I pay so much attention today to the drink list on the menu. Today, it's just another spiritual tool.

HEARD AT MEETINGS:

"Most of my great discoveries in sobriety have just been flashes of deep insight into the obvious."

"I try to take one day at a time, but sometimes three or four gang up on me at once."

Rita it's a moral inventory
...not an immoral inventory!"

"I don't know about blackouts but I had many involuntary naps!"

ANONYMITY IN THE DIGITAL AGE

Our literature states that the greatest single protection that the fellowship has to assure it's continued existence and growth", is

ANONYMITY.

"When using digital media. A.A. members are responsible for their own anonymity and that of others when we post, text or blog, we should assume that we are publishing at the public level. When we break our anonymity in these forums, we may inadvertently break the anonymity of others."

I'm Your Addiction

Allow me to introduce myself
I am the disease of addiction.
Cunning, baffling, powerful –
That's me and I'm here for your affliction.
I wish you pain and suffering
while I rob you of your health,
I'll pretend to be your friend if you give me
all your wealth.
I will listen to your struggles I'll pretend to dry your eyes.
I'll corrupt your mind with ease as I fill your head with lies.
I hate your Higher Power,
why don't you call on me instead?
I'll be there to hold your hand
when you put the gun to your head.
I am such a hated disease!
Yet I don't come invited.
When you decide to end your life
that gets me excited!
I hate your twelve step program -
more than you'll ever know.
Now I must lie here dormant
you don't see me yet I grow.
I will never leave your side.
I'll come visit you in jail.
I will gladly hold your hand,
as I lead you straight to hell!
